Friday, 25-JAN-2019, 13:30 PM to 18:30 PM | Bangalore, Karnataka, India

Greetings from IFMA India!

Session on: "Zero is the New Green" Series – Series 1 Introduction to Zero

There are many sources that define net zero differently, such as The International Living Future Institute, The Department of Energy, or the National Renewable Energy Laboratory. a common, agreed upon definition can be.

Net Zero is a term most commonly associated with commercial buildings, although it is completely possible for any habitable structure to be a net zero structure. A net-Zero ready building is one that is designed to be ultra-efficient, with the goal of being net-zero at some point in the future.

What exactly is Net Zero? Is it associated with the Building itself or has it got to do with.

- Energy?
- Green House gases?
- Carbon Footprints?
- Water?
- Air quality?

The sessions will explore sources, alternatives, & Understanding how corporates understand this subject and what does the FM team member need to understand, adopt to New age subject of what, how can this subject benefit the organization to better efficiency in managing buildings and operations.
